

Jennifer Bruce
English Immigrant
Franconia
December 22, 1966

I was seven years old in 1966. I remember getting off the Franconia and walking into a very big building. My brother (age nine then) and sister (twelve then) were as impressed as I was with the size of everything.

We were told that it could take three days to cross Canada by train - Incredible!