Crossing the Atlantic, three snow storm gales. Arrive in Halifax in the middle of the blizzard. Went by train to Winnipeg, both wife and I found an apartment and job with the help of CN dining car steward and remained friends until I joined the Canadian Army in 1958. Seem to have adjusted well to the way of life with five children and eight grandchildren. I served 42 years with Canadian forces, retiring as Captain. My wife retired after 25 years with province of BC, as production manager for the Hansard office. Both became Canadian citizens in 1976.
