CANADA'S IMMIGRATION MUSEUM
PIER 21

My father, John (Giovanni) Marrone immigrated from Fossacesia, Abbruzzo, Italy in search of a better life. He was only 17 years old when his mother and older brother had convinced him to leave Italy. His brother had already immigrated to Toronto, Canada, so he was not alone. He had arrived at "Pier 21" in Halifax, Nova Scotia, on April 25th, 1953, via the T.S.S. Nea Hellas.
